

SKIRMISHES MARK WAR'S OPENING

WAR NEWS MADE UP ONLY OF SMALL ENGAGEMENTS.

Balkan and Turkish Forces Have Many Clashes While in Maneuvering and Preparing for Big Events.

London, Oct. 21.—The war news is still the story of comparatively uninteresting small engagements involved in maneuvering for position while the Turkish and Balkan forces are assembling and preparing for big events. The Serbian army is steadily advancing and has its headquarters at Vranja in the movement against Uscup.

The Greeks have captured Diastaka from which position the Turks relied on the town of Serbia, where a big battle is expected shortly.

May Battle at Adrianople.
According to the Constantinople report, an important battle is imminent at Adrianople. Meanwhile the rival fleets are both active, the Greeks blockading the Island of Lemnos, and the Turkish bombarding Kavarna and Varna. A report of the sinking of a Bulgarian torpedo boat is discredited at Constantinople, where it is stated that the Turkish warships in the Black Sea fired at torpedo boats, but that the latter took refuge in port, the warships not venturing to follow for fear of mines.

Claims All Greek Tonnage.
The Greek consul at Cardiff, acting under instructions from his government is laying claim to all the Greek tonnage entering that port. Every vessel so commanded becomes the property of the Greek government and the captain an officer of the Greek navy. Ship owners have requested the British foreign office to protest against this procedure.

Greeks Cross Frontier.
Athens, Oct. 21.—King George of Greece has received telegraphic replies from his three sovereign allies to a message informing them that the Greek army had crossed the frontier.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria said: "Filled with a sentiment of sublime, reciprocal and mutual confidence, our peoples, brothers in faith, united in a sacred agreement and ask the Almighty defender of the rights of the weak and protector of the oppressed to grant the fervent prayers that ascend to his throne for the four allied nations to the God of battles to crown with success the joint efforts of our armies for the triumph of the doubly righteous cause of faith and liberty."

King Nicholas of Montenegro said: "Our cordial greetings and most sincere wishes for the victory of the worthy descendants of Themistocles and Miltiades. May God bless our efforts for our sacred cause."

King Peter of Serbia sent the following message:

"Trusting in God that the forces of the Balkans, united in religion and led by the traditional sentiment of their peoples will triumph in their generous work, I hail with confidence the commencement of the joint action and wish complete success for the valiant Greek army."

The Aegean squadron under command of Admiral Countouriotis arrived yesterday at Kastro, capital of the Island of Lemnos, and demanded that the authorities surrender. The squadron today anchored at Port Madros and landed troops which advanced to occupy the town.

Admiral Countouriotis has proclaimed a blockade of all the ports of Lemnos. A blockade is also effective on the coast of Epirus.

Turks Bombard Villages.
Sofia, Oct. 21.—After the bombardment of Kavarna today one of the Turkish warships left in the direction of Balchik. Four others cruised along the coast between Kavarna and Kalkora, bombarding the villages.

The Turks attempted a landing today, but the two boats anchored along the shores opened fire.

The Bulgarian government has entered a protest against the bombardment of Kavarna as a violation of the principles of international law laid down by the Hague conference. The town is a trading port only, and is not defended. No warning was given of the attack.

Turks Repulse Greeks.

London, Oct. 21.—A column of Greek troops was repulsed today when it attacked the Komatias Pass which is held by the Turks, according to a news agency despatch from Constantinople. Komatias Pass is in the mountains on the Albanian frontier.

Called to Country's Aid.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—All Ottoman subjects in the United States must leave immediately for Turkey to aid in the war with the Balkan states, according to instructions received today by Charles Henrotin, consul general of the Ottoman empire in Chicago. The order came from Youssef Zia, Turkish ambassador at Washington.

Transfer Serbian Headquarters.

Vranja, Serbia, Oct. 21.—The transfer of the Serbian headquarters has been completed. King Peter arrived here today.

Capture Turkish Trenches.

Athens, Oct. 21.—The Greeks by a flank movement today entered the Turkish trenches at Dyssak with trifling losses. The Turks stubbornly

TRIP CAUSES NO ILL EFFECT

ROOSEVELT STANDS JOURNEY
FROM CHICAGO WELL.

Swaying of Car Tires the Colonel and He Sleeps Most of Time—Will Arrive in New York This Morning.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 21.—Although ex-President Roosevelt was weary from his all-day ride from Chicago to Pittsburgh, he showed no other ill-effects on his arrival here tonight and the physicians who are accompanying him "were confident that he would reach Oyster Bay in almost as good condition as when he left Mercy hospital. Mrs. Roosevelt and the physicians, while believing that the colonel had sufficient strength for the trip, were nevertheless concerned as to the outcome when the time came for his departure, and during the first few hours they watched the patient closely for any signs of a setback. As the day wore on and it became plain that he was resting comfortably, the tension was relaxed and tonight everyone on the colonel's car was breathing more easily.

Colonel Roosevelt spent the day reading, talking and sleeping. As soon as he came to his car in Chicago he went to his bed and remained there during the day.

Brakes Jolt Car.

"He said in the morning that he did not feel like sleeping, but the swaying of the car tired him and he slept for several hours. The hardships of the journey were increased by several severe jolts caused by the imperfect action of a brake on the colonel's car and once or twice the train came to such an abrupt halt that the colonel was tossed about in his bed. He was suffering from nervous exhaustion when he left Chicago and he found the motion of the train most tiresome, so that he was glad to be able to sleep occasionally."

The progress of the Roosevelt train was watched by silent crowds. At many of the stations people brought flowers and fruits to the wounded man and sent him messages of greetings.

At Lima, Ohio, there was the only suggestion of a cheer during the day, but was suppressed immediately.

Wound Is Healing.

Dr. Alexander Lambert of New York, who with Dr. Scurry Terrell of Dallas, Texas, is caring for the colonel, said that the wound had healed some during the day, but that the bleeding was merely the result of the draining of the wound and was an indication of the healing process. Bulletins were issued by the physicians from time to time during the day, but they merely reported that the colonel was resting easily and that his condition was unchanged. Aided by the X-ray examination made yesterday, Dr. Lambert was able to determine the position of the bullet by an external examination today. He placed his finger on the precise spot and Colonel Roosevelt showed him he was right for he said:

"That's mighty sore there."

The bullet is embedded in the major pectoral muscle," said Dr. Lambert, "and the X-ray picture showed, is close to the fourth rib on the right side. It will be a simple matter to remove the bullet later should Colonel Roosevelt wish it."

Ohio Progressive Leader Calls.

The only person who saw Colonel Roosevelt after he boarded the train aside from his physicians and members of his family, was Walter Brown, Ohio progressive leader, who spent an hour on the train during the trip across Ohio and talked with the colonel for a few minutes. After his departure, Colonel Roosevelt dictated this statement:

"Colonel Roosevelt expresses his regret that while passing through Ohio on the day on which he was to have spoken here he is unable to meet the sympathetic friends who gather to greet him. He would like to take advantage of his opportunity to ask his friends throughout the state to give their support heartily to the Progressive ticket and particularly to Mr. Garford, the Progressive candidate for Governor whom Colonel Roosevelt esteems as exactly the type of man whom all should welcome to leadership."

Colonel Roosevelt is due in New York at 8:08 tomorrow morning. His car will be taken directly to Oyster Bay and before 1 o'clock the colonel probably will be in bed at Sagamore Hill.

Passes Through Altoona.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 22.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt and party passed through this city shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. A crowd of several hundred were in the train shed to welcome the colonel, but when it was learned that he was sleeping the crowd remained silent.

BIG CHICAGO REGISTRATION.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Revised figures on the registration for the November elections show a total of 448,062 names on the poll books, the largest registration in the city's history.

Several hundred voters registered in three different precincts while the poll books in four precincts contain 600 names each.

Transfer Servian Headquarters.

Vranja, Serbia, Oct. 21.—The transfer of the Servian headquarters has been completed. King Peter arrived here today.

Capture Turkish Trenches.

Athens, Oct. 21.—The Greeks by a flank movement today entered the Turkish trenches at Dyssak with trifling losses. The Turks stubbornly

PERKINS GRILLED BY FUND PROBERS

WRANGLES THROUGHOUT ENTIRE EXAMINATION.

Denies That Fund Had Been Underwritten to Finance Roosevelt Pre-Convention Campaign — "Mere Hot Air."

Washington, Oct. 21.—Eradicate denials that a huge fund had been underwritten to finance the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign or that any money had been contributed to the fund by the international Harvester company, or the United States Steel corporation were entered today by George W. Perkins on the stand before the senate campaign contributions committee.

The testimony of Mr. Perkins bristled with such expressions as "unmitigated lies," "absolutely false," "totally unfair," and "mere hot air."

He denounced the charges made by Senator Berens Penrose and by Charles D. Hilles, Republican national chairman, demanding that Senator Penrose be made to prove his assertion that $3,000,000 was underwritten for the Roosevelt campaign, "or like a gentleman, take it back," and declaring that Mr. Hilles should prove his charge or "be dismissed from office."

In Wrangle Most of Time.

Throughout most of his examination Mr. Perkins was in a wrangle with some member of the committee. Time after time he waved a clenched fist in the air, and declared that the committee "could not get away with it."

Once the committee voted to expunge a remark from the record. As he grew indignant under cross-examination, the witness would rise in his place, glaring at the committee and gesticulating violently.

Mr. Perkins accounted to the committee for $123,000 which he said he spent in the pre-convention campaign of Colonel Roosevelt.

Recalls 1904 Fund Dimly.

"That was absolutely all of my contribution," he said emphatically. But Mr. Perkins could not recollect the amounts he subscribed or collected for the Republican campaign fund of 1904. He said that the various large amounts credited to "G. W. P." on the list of contributors to that fund, furnished the committee by Elmer Dover, were undoubtedly secured by Treasurer C. N. Bliss from men whose names he had suggested or whom he had asked personally to contribute.

The witness said he almost dropped dead" when Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana returned to him $10,000 which he sent him in 1904. This was the only instance he knew of, he said, of a "man running for office returning money after he had got his hands on it."

Grows Indignant When Questioned.

Mr. Perkins grew indignant when he was questioned as to any relation his activities in connection with the 1904 campaign might have had to the withholding of the suit against the Harvester company, planned by department of justice in 1907. He told that for the government to have begun the action at that time would have been "totally unfair" because the bureau of corporations then was investigating the company. That he went to see President Roosevelt and that the latter, after investigating, ordered the suit delayed. His statement to Herbert K. Smith, commissioner of corporations, that of "world fight," or the "Morgan interests would fight," he said meant only that the case would be brought in the courts and had no political significance. In conclusion Mr. Perkins declared that he had never had asked a favor of any government official, and that he was not in politics to secure business favors.

"When this campaign is over," he added, "if on the fifth of November, Theodore Roosevelt elected, on November 6 our accounts will all square."

Contribution of Ryan $450,000.

Thomas Fortune Ryan loomed up as the biggest individual campaign contributor that has come to the committee's attention when he told of contributing $450,000 to the fund of Alton B. Parker in 1904. Of this sum, Mr. Ryan said he gave $250,000 after he was convinced that Mr. Parker was defeated in order to save the Democratic organization.

Half a dozen Philadelphia newspapermen were sworn today to testify that William Flinn, the Pittsburgh leader, was in Philadelphia at the time Senator Penrose charges Flinn offered him $1,000,000 for his support for the senatorial ticket to succeed Senator Quay. Mr. Flinn on the stand declared that he was not in Philadelphia at the time.

New York, October 21.—Judge Alton B. Parker, the Democratic candidate in 1904 said tonight that he was astounded at the "colossal" contributions to the Democratic campaign fund in that year by Thomas Fortune Ryan, as revealed in the testimony before the Clapp committee in Washington today.

"I have read the testimony of Mr. Ryan," said Judge Parker, "and I am astounded. I was under the impression that Mr. Ryan and Mr. Belmont were leading contributors to the Democratic campaign because the press said so, but not that they were colossal contributors as now appears. I never knew Mr. Belmont favored my nomination and Mr. Ryan had vigorously opposed it."

"It now appears from Mr. Ryan's testimony that late in the campaign when my election was not even

PRESIDENT WRITES TO WANNAMAKER

DEALS WITH SOME OF CAM-PAIGN ISSUES.

Thanks Mr. Wannamaker on His Own and People's Behalf for HIS
"Splendid Work for the Republican Party."

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 21.—White house officials tonight made public a letter from President Taft to John Wannamaker of Philadelphia, dealing with some of the issues of the campaign and thanking Mr. Wannamaker in his own belief, and on behalf of the people of the nation for his "splendid work." The president's letter dealt almost exclusively with the tariff and prosperity, which he declared was largely due to protection.

The letter in part reads:

"My Dear Mr. Wannamaker:

"I want to thank you for the splendid work you are doing for the success of the Republican party in the approaching election. I thank you not for myself alone, but for the people at large, who have so much to lose, so little to gain from a change of administration who will indeed suffer if a Democratic president and a Democratic congress secure their platform pledges, and an extra session of congress is called next March to change the tariff from a protective to a revenue basis."

As a protectionist I can see no benefit to be gained from such a change. For sixty years, under the protective policy our industries have grown at a pace which has astounded the world. Our wage-earners have established and maintained a standard of living which is unknown in the old world. Even during the period of high cost of living, which has prevailed throughout the civilized world for a few years, our people have suffered no such hardships as those of the old world."

"The abundant crops of this year are already operating to decrease the cost of living to the American workingman while there is every indication that wages will be maintained. Our factories are running full time, there are abundant orders ahead and wages are high. With plenty of employment at good wages and the prices of foodstuffs falling in some instances, in others about to fall the wage earner is just on the eve of a garnering his harvest and if the existing conditions are not changed by a political upheaval, we will see the balances in the savings banks grow in the next four years as never before."

The election of a Democratic president would mean the election of a Democratic senate and house and the present congress has proved how savagely and with what recklessness the Democrats would deal with the tariff if they were in full control of the executive and the legislative branches of the government. I cannot understand how any American voter can fail to see that by throwing away his vote on the third party, or by voting to put the Democrats in power in the white house and in congress he is as surely courting disaster as is the small child playing with matches."

WITNESS GIVES DAMAGING TESTIMONY

State Officials Balked in Efforts to Close Porter Race Track.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—State officials, balked in their attempt to obtain a restraining order to prevent racing and alleged gambling at the track of the Mineral Springs Jockey club at Porter, Ind., tonight decided to await Monday's developments before ordering out the militia as authorized by Governor Marshall, who is campaigning in the west.

Affidavits submitted today in court at Valparaiso, by a number of citizens to the effect that there had been no gambling at the Porter track caused Attorney General Honan to withdraw the petition for a restraining order. He said the state was not prepared to offset the affidavits. Tonight the state officers held a conference but refused to risk of plans for Monday's procedure.

Governor Marshall's instructions are that the state troops are to be used only as a last resort in closing the race track.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Attorney General Wickham today asked the supreme court to decide which branch of the United States courts shall enforce the recent decree in favor of the government in the St. Louis terminal case. Attorneys for the government and railroads concerned are not agreed.

DARROW TRIAL DATE SET.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21.—The trial of Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago lawyer who defended the McNamara brothers, was today set for November 25th, on the indictment charging him with the bribery of Robert E. Bain, a juror in the McNamara trial.

A national committee that honor of the Democratic party might be impugned, August Belmont is said to have joined in the undertaking. For eight years they have suffered reproach, but I, for one, doff my hat to them, they made the obligation of the organization not out of the funds of corporations, but out

TESTIFIES TO SYSTEM OF DUAL ACCOUNTS

FORMER BOOKKEEPER TELLS OF JUGGLING OF RECORDS.

Government Charges "Juggled" Accounts were Maintained to Conceal Payments for the Expenses of Dynamiting.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 21.—Reading from the financial account books of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers for the period when John J. McNamara, the secretary treasurer, was conducting a "campaign of explosions" about the country, Miss Mary C. Dye, former bookkeeper for McNamara, testified at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today that one record of money expended was kept for the unions officials and executive board members, while a different record was kept for the public and for members of the union generally.

A regular system of "juggling" the accounts, the government charges, was maintained to conceal the payments for the expenses of dynamiting.

Miss Dye on Stand.

Miss Dye's testimony was that of a dual system of recording expenditures was in force prior to 1909, or until the executive board decided to allow McNamara, $1,000 a month without requiring any accounting, which continued until after the Los Angeles Times building was blown up. It was out of this $1,000 a month the government charges that McNamara paid Orrie McManigal and James E. McNamara for the Pacific coast explosions and for 35 other explosions.

Knew Use of Money.

The defendants named by witnesses as having been members of the executive board who were cognizant of the use to which the money was put were Frank M. Ryan, president of the union; John T. Butler, Buffalo, first vice president; Eugene A. Claret, San Francisco; Henry W. Weis, Denver; Frank C. Webb, New York; Michael J. Young, Boston, and Herbert S. Hockin, present secretary. They are among the 45 men now on trial charged with illegally transporting explosives by aiding and abetting.

Published Accounts False.

Miss Dye testified that in the books available to the officials the full amounts paid to McNamara, Hockin, Webb and others, were given, but in the records published in the magazine less than half the amounts were charged to the individuals, while the difference was charged to "emergency fund" by order of the executive board. The witness said that for the fiscal year ending in 1909, $3,698 was paid to Webb, while $1,572 was recorded in McNamara's report to the union; $4,970 was paid to Hockin, while $2,043 was reported to the union; and $2,537 was paid to J. J. McNamara, while $1,987 was reported to the union as having been paid to him, the differences in each case being charged to emergency fund.

Altogether the government alleges that $20,000 was represented in aggregate for dynamite purposes.

It is alleged that the funds were charged up to donations to various unions or advances to various officials without any later showing as to the disposition of the money.

A dozen foremen of structural iron and steel erection jobs where explosions occurred may be called to testify tomorrow. They are to be questioned about the details of explosions which McNamara confessed he caused.

MAY PRESERVE ORDER AT POLLS

American Troops May Be Needed
In Nicaragua, Nov. 2.

Washington, Oct. 21.—American marines and bluejackets whose activities were largely responsible for the crushing of the recent serious rebellion in Nicaragua, may soon be called upon to preserve order at the polls when the Nicaraguans by direct vote choose a president and vice president. It became known today that the United States proposes to have guards on hand unless the Nicaraguan government can give absolute assurance that the election will be impartially conducted.

Nicaraguan Minister Castillo is awaiting word from his government as to whether the services of the American troops would be desirable on election day, Saturday, Nov. 2. He said today that he probably would be able to notify the state department within a day or two.

The state department attaches considerable importance to the fact that President Diaz, conservation candidate for re-election, appears to have won his cause a number of the most prominent liberals in Nicaragua.

MISS CAMERON IN ROCKFORD.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 21.—Deputy United States Marshal Edward Marsales arrived tonight to take Miss Lucile Cameron, who was a sweetheart of Jack Johnson, to Chicago tomorrow to appear as a witness against Jeanette Dorr, the woman accused of bringing the girl to this state for immoral purposes. Since her husband, Rockford Sheriff Young, has kept Miss Cameron under strict guard and no one was allowed to see her.

CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 21.—Joe Vitale tonight was convicted of manslaughter as a result of shooting his brother, Vito Vitale, in a pistol duel.

MAY DOUBLE WHEAT CROP

SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY MAY IN-CREASE GRAIN TWO FOLD.

By Crossing Wild Wheat With Other Grades Will Insure Crops in Drought and in Arid Lands.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Doubling of the wheat crop of the United States is the possibility raised by scientific discoveries made by Professor Aaron Aaronsohn of Jerusalem, according to an announcement made at the University of Chicago today. Prof. Aaronsohn is director of the agricultural experiment station in Palestine, an institution financed by Julius Rosenwald and Judge Julian Mack of Chicago.

Finds Original Wheat Plant.

The investigator, who found the original wheat plant growing wild in Palestine after years of search, is engaged in crossing the plant with better grades of wheat in order to produce a superior one.

The experiments Professor Aaronsohn asserted, show that a species of wheat can be produced adapted to the semi-arid regions of Algeria, Tunis, Syria, Egypt, Turkestan and other eastern countries, and to similar land in the United States. Plants grown by the experiments thrive in rocky, shallow and dry soil without cultivation.

Packed by Chicago Men.

Professor Aaronsohn told of his work on a former visit to Chicago and Mr. Rosenwald and Judge Mack advanced funds for the station in Palestine. Botanists at the University of Chicago have followed the work with interest.

"This is really the biggest proposition regarding the food supply of the world now before us," said Prof. John M. Coulter head of the department of botany at the university, who talked with Prof. Aaronsohn. "The crossing of the wild wheat in other grades will insure crops in drought and in arid lands. It will be the salvation of the eastern countries."

CUB MANAGER NOT YET CHOSEN

Murphy Has So Far Failed to Name
Chance's Successor.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Although President Murphy of the Chicago National league baseball club has announced that he has decided on a new manager to supplant Frank Chance next year, he failed to name the man today, as had been expected. In connection with the statements of President Murphy, Manager Chance today declared:

"Murphy does not dare to release."

Manager Chance said he did not believe that President Murphy had chosen a new manager, but that he might select one later because of the situation that had been created.

Chance said that it was a "dog's life to manage a team under Murphy," as the players "hated to play for him."

President Murphy tonight declared that Chance would not be manager of the team next year and that he had not decided what disposition would be made of Chance.

President Murphy said Chance might be traded to another team or might be retained as a utility infield player.

Murphy refused to deny or affirm a report that Second Baseman John J. Evers had been chosen as Chance's successor.

CHARGE COUNTERFEITING.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 21.—Charles R. Homan, of this city, was arrested today by postal authorities for counterfeiting postage stamps. He confessed to using the unmarked parts of cancelled stamps and pasting them together so as to make a perfect appearing stamp. The method employed was the first of the kind to ever come to the attention of the postal authorities.

Homan recently made a part payment of a diamond purchased from a Kansas City mail order house, which led to his arrest.

ANXIETY FELT FOR U. S. TRANSPORT PRAIRIE.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Fears are felt in the navy department for the United States transport Prairie, which with 750 marines and the United States commission aboard, was last heard from on Oct. 2 off the coast of Santo Domingo, whether it had been ordered to investigate the uprising there and interfere if American or foreign interests were endangered. Acting Secretary Winthrop today sent urgent dispatches to all stations in Santo Domingo seeking information as to the vessel's whereabouts.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The fire on the steamer Berkshire ablaze in Lookout Cove, N. C., since Sunday morning, apparently was under control late tonight, according to a despatch to the revenue cutter service.

The Berkshire's passengers were taken aboard the Seminole today and were landed at Cape Lookout life-saving station tonight.

GARY OUTPOSTS REZENAH.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 21.—Tommy Gary, of Chicago, had a shade the night. While no official decision was better of Andy Bezenah, of Cincinnati, in a ten round bout here tonight. While no official decision was rendered the newspaper decision fa-

MEXICAN SITUATION MORE SERIOUS

REBELLION ASSUMES NEW AND FORMIDABLE PHASE.

Conditions Are Much Worse as Result of General Diaz Taking Possession of Vera Cruz—Non-Intervention Policy of U. S.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Official interest here today centered upon the situation in Mexico, where the rebellion has taken on a new and formidable phase as the result of General Felix Diaz taking possession of Vera Cruz.

The return to Washington of Secretary Knox from Japan, the presence here of Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico and interesting and important developments in the military situation at Vera Cruz, held by Diaz for the last two days, were elements that serve to concentrate attention upon the Mexican trouble. As Secretary Knox was accompanied from Chicago to Washington by Assistant Secretary Huntington Wilson, he found himself upon his arrival here this morning well informed of all, save the very latest developments. Ambassador Wilson probably will have an opportunity to discuss the situation and receive any suggestions that might be thought necessary for his guidance in the confidential talk with Secretary Knox before the latter leaves Washington tomorrow night to join President Taft at Beverly.

The one fact that appears clearly today is that, although the ambassador has conferred at length with acting Secretary Ade and the officials of the state department who are charged particularly with the conduct of Mexican relations, nothing he has communicated has influenced the officials to change in any respect the clearly defined policy of non-intervention in Mexico. This is quite true even in the face of semi-official admissions that the revolutionary movement in Mexico has assumed a much more serious aspect than ever before and that a coalition between the forces of the rebel leader, Zapata, who has for the last year maintained a formidable rebellion almost within sight of the Mexican capital, and General Felix Diaz, reputed to be supported by the powerful scientific party might jeopardize the very existence of the Madero government. So far, however, it cannot be established that these leaders have agreed to make common cause.

The military situation at Vera Cruz, according to the last reports to the department, was extremely interesting. Though there was promise of an important and perhaps decisive battle between the rebel Diaz forces and the considerable army that General Beltran has assembled under the government standard on the outskirts of the city, it was confidently expected that the important foreign interests in Vera Cruz would escape jeopardy and loss of the lives of non-combatants be averted by an agreement between the two commanders to do their fighting outside of the city limits.

General Beltran has said that he would do personally all that he could in conformity with orders from his government to capture the town to protect it from destruction. Furthermore he told the foreign consuls that he would transmit to his government their request to refrain from bombarding the town, or fighting in its streets. For his part General Diaz who is in complete possession of the city proper offered to the consuls all possible guarantees to life and property so long as he maintained control.

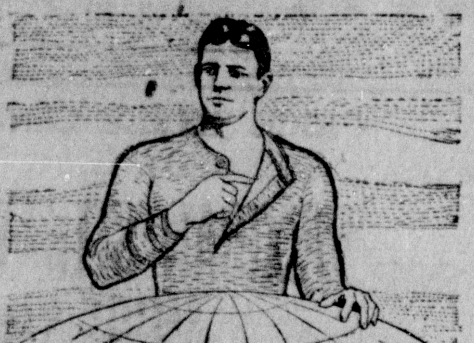

With the leaders on both sides in this frame of mind the consuls like other consuls felt reassured.

According to today's reports, everything in Vera Cruz is unusually quiet and orderly and is likely to remain so unless the federal gunboats start to bombard the city.

General Beltran's forces were about ten miles from town. A possible element of trouble is the issue of a decree by the government officer in charge of the gunboats declaring the port of Vera Cruz closed. Indirectly this may drag the United States navy into the affair as the American mail steamship Sigurana has appeared in the harbor and is there to discharge a cargo. If the federal navy commander persists in regarding the port as closed and refuses to permit the ship to unload, the situation would exactly parallel that in Rio harbor nearly 20 years ago when the American navy broke a blockade.

The advisory board met Monday afternoon in the association rooms and decided on a number of things which are to be acted upon at tonight's meeting. If every man who cept for half an hour between 9:30 and 10 o'clock. It is planned to close the office at 7 o'clock and not open it again until 6 o'clock the following morning, save for the half-hour as mentioned above. Jacksonville is one of the few postoffices in the United States that keeps open all night.

Postmaster Reeve has had this change under advisement for some time and believes it will be a better arrangement all around. As is known the force at night is small and only one man is on duty after 10 o'clock and earlier in the evening it takes one man constantly at the window to wait on customers, a great number of whom could wait just as well until the following day. It is planned, however, to have the general delivery window opened from 9:30 till 10 o'clock so that travelling men and others who have important business at the office can be accommodated.

Postmaster Reeve, when interviewed about the matter last night, was quite optimistic about the new hours and believes that people would not object to such a change.

MAUDE POWELL IN GREAT CONCERT

Noted Violinist Charms Audience at at Woman's College by Her Art.

Maude Powell, violinist, was the attraction Monday night at the artists' course given under the auspices of the Illinois Woman's college. Despite the inclement weather Music hall was comfortably filled with music lovers and the program given was superb in every respect.

Miss Powell is no stranger in Jacksonville, having appeared here on two previous occasions. Her ability as a violinist has received such recognition, both in America and in foreign countries, that it appears as though nothing more could be said as to her wonderful artistic ability. She possesses a marvelous technique, and her ability in handling the bow is a revelation of science and art. She plays with such life, feeling and emotion that her audiences bend as does her bow and she really captivates her hearers.

Her rendition of the Concerto, G minor, by Coleridge-Taylor, was grand. It will be remembered that the author, who was a negro, was just coming into the greatness of his music as a composer
when he died last month.

Thomas W. Musgrave acted as accompanist in a finished manner. The program follows:

Allegro maestoso
Andante semplice
Allegro molto

Bach (1685) (unaccompanied)..... (a) Loure

Nardini (1722)..... (b) Bourree

(c) Allegretto con spirito

His Natural Death.

A clerk who acted as accountant to a London firm was charged by the head of the firm with embezzlement. He admitted his guilt and went home and cut his throat. The wound was not immediately fatal, but caused an abscess, from which he died afterward in hospital. The jury summoned to the inquest returned the amazing verdict of "death from natural causes."—London Mail.

Saw the Finish.

Little Elmer—Mamma, I saw a man down at the blacksmith's shop making a horse. Mamma—You must be mistaken, Elmer. Little Elmer—No, I'm not, mamma. He had the horse nearly finished when I came by. He was just nailing on the feet.—Chicago News.

Matrimony.

Matrimony resembles a pair of shears
so joined that they cannot be separated, often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing any one who comes between them.—S. Smith.

Wasted Warning.

"Remember, my son, that beauty is only skin deep," warned the sage.
"That's deep enough for me," replied
the young man. "I'm no cannibal!"—

WILL RECEIVE VAST WEALTH

Twenty-five Million Dollars Will Pass to Alfred Vanderbilt Today

New York, Oct. 19.—A birthday present of twenty-five million dollars! That is certainly "going some," even in these days of high prices and big figures. Nevertheless, $25,000,000 is approximately the amount that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt is to receive by virtue of the fact that he reaches his thirty-fifth birthday anniversary to-morrow. This sum represents the half of Vanderbilt's patrimony willed to him by his father, Cornelius Vanderbilt.
The latter was displeased with the marriage of his oldest son, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and when he died in 1899 he left a will that cut off
Cornelius, Jr., with a paltry million or two and gave the bulk of the family fortune to the second son, Alfred G. Vanderbilt. The fortune was estimated in round figures at $50,000,000.
Half of it came into the possession of young Vanderbilt on his thirtieth birthday. The other half is now to receive upon attaining his thirty-fifth year.

With the addition of $25,000,000
to his personal fortune the suzerain of the house of Vanderbilt will be promoted to the first grade in the school of American multi-millionaires. After tomorrow he will be the richest man of his age in all the country. But things move very rapidly nowadays and the distinction of being the wealthiest young man will not long rest with young Vanderbilt.
Less than one month hence Vincent Astor will attain his majority and in consequence will come into possession of the wealth left by his father, the late John Jacob Astor. According to the most authoritative estimates the fortune of young Vincent Astor will amount to $100,000,000.
In short, which will give him a rating above that of almost every other American millionaire excepting John D. Rockefeller.

In the opinion of those who keep tab on such matters, Alfred G. Vanderbilt has probably come closer to living up to his income than any of the other "big New York millionaires," such as the Rockefellers, Cordells, Astors and Morgans. In common parlance, Alfred G. is what is known as a "good spender." He maintains town and country houses on both sides of the Atlantic, has one of the finest establishments or show horses in the world and goes the limit in about every variety of expensive pastime from yachting to automobiling. According to popular report he pays a rental in excess of $150,000 for his suite of apartments in the new Hotel Vanderbilt in this city, for the pleasure of occupying the rooms six or eight weeks in the year. So, all things considered, the income that will fall from his additional $25,000,000 will probably be very welcome to a young man of Mr.
Vanderbilt's extravagant tastes. And the more so since his family expenses have been increased by the addition of a little daughter, born only a few weeks ago to the second Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who before her marriage was Mrs. Smith Hollis McKim; and before that was Miss Emerson of Baltimore, daughter of the man who sold out his little drug store and went into the business of making a well known cure for that "morning after" feeling, and whose wisdom has been rewarded by a fortune of several million dollars reaped from the sale of the little blue bottles and their contents.

A Curious Archipelago.

The Maldives archipelago, lying in the Indian ocean, several hundred miles southwest of the southern point of Hindustan, is inhabited, but it rarely sees visitors from the civilized world. These islands, all composed of coral rock, are no fewer than 14,000 in number. Few of them rise more than seven or eight feet above the sea level, although they contain cocoanut palms and other forms of vegetation.
Hundreds and hundreds of little islands, ranged round in a circle, with narrow and shallow channels between, form atolls or rings, having quiet waters within. Occasionally in this unique group an individual island is found in the form of a ring with a smooth lake enclosed in its coral embrace.

You cannot afford to miss the wonderful lecture by Bishop McDowell at Grace M. E. church Wednesday night.

COL. W. J. WYATT IS LAID TO REST

Impressive Ceremony Held For Veteran of Two Wars, at His Home in Franklin.

Impressive funeral services were held for the late Col. W. J. Wyatt at the family residence in Franklin, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Rev. A. H. Flagg of Assumption, assisted by Rev. Peter Kittle, pastor of the M. E. church of Franklin. Colonel Wyatt had arranged every detail for his funeral even to the songs that were to be used and his request was carried out in every particular.

It was one of the largest attended funerals in Franklin, members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs attending in a body.

Rev. A. H. Flagg, a former pastor of the deceased took for his text, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me." He spoke of the great service Col. Wyatt had done for his country as a soldier and his worth as a citizen. He said that it was given to few men to pass through the experiences Col. Wyatt had and his deeds of valor, love and service would remain forever and be told the coming generations with renewed interest.

Music was given by a quartet composed of Mrs. Roy Brannon, Misses Grace Hill, Ina Berryman and Lucile Olinger, with Miss May Boulware as organist. Miss Berryman also sang most feelingly "Face to Face." The songs selected by the deceased were "One of Our Friends Ate Going," "Come Unto Me," "Peace, Wonderful Peace," and "There'll Be no Dark Valley."

The flowers were many and extremely beautiful. There was a large American flag made of flowers, given by the Mexican War Veterans association; a large pillow from the Odd Fellows; spray of carnations from the Methodist church; spray of roses from Rebekah; spray of roses, Order of Eastern Star, also sprays of mixed flowers from St. Louis and Jacksonville. These were cared for by Mrs. Fannie Daniels and Miss Lucy Darley.

The remains were laid to rest in Franklin cemetery where two selections were given by the quartet and the commitment services were in charge of the Odd Fellows. The old soldiers who acted as honorary bearers were Alexander Van Inkle, Hardin Kepling, John P. Seymour, Alex. Whitlock, John Whitlock, George Wright, Richard Seymour, Tebyourn Dougherty and Chamberlain Belk.

The active bearers were Messrs. Lewis Roberts, William Whalen, E. A. Scott, William Rees, N. Z. Reinbach, and Warren N. Luttrell.

HOLD ENTHUSIASTIC REPUBLICAN RALLY

Colored Men Meet at Court House and Hear Address by Dr. E. J. Fisher of Chicago.

A large number of colored men gathered in the circuit court room at the court house Monday night to attend an enthusiastic rally held under the auspices of the Colored Republican club. Edward Mallory acted as chairman at the meeting and after addresses were made by Rev. A. E. Miller and Rev. A. A. Russell, Mr. Mallory introduced Dr. E. J. Fisher, pastor of the Olivet Baptist church of Chicago, who gave a very enthusiastic address. Dr. Fisher, who was born in slavery in the state of Georgia, told of the conditions in the south and also gave the reasons why he is a Republican and a Taft supporter. He told of the two conventions in Chicago and admonished his hearers to study the question very thoroughly before casting their ballot, and to remember that it has been during the Republican administrations that the colored people have made the most advancement.

Following his address four candidates for county offices on the Republican ticket, who had just returned from a political meeting at Alexander, were called on and made a few brief remarks. They were F. L. Gregory, candidate for state's attorney; J. A. Rawlings, candidate for re-election as circuit clerk; G. V. Skinner, candidate for re-election as coroner, and Allison Thomason, candidate for the office of county commissioner. Music during the evening was furnished by Mallory Brothers orchestra and following the addresses by the candidates the meeting adjourned.

Battle is Imminent.
Constantinople, Oct. 21.—It is admitted here tonight that the Bulgarians are established about twelve miles from Adrianople, and that a big battle is imminent.

It is announced that important concentration of the Bulgarian forces has taken place at Koestendil, in the southeast of Bulgaria the objective of which is doubtless the Stuma valley, the easiest road to the heart of Macedonia.

It is asserted that in the fighting around Elassona the Greeks lost 1,500 killed.

Report Bulgarian Victory.
London, Oct. 22.—The Sofia correspondent of the Daily Telegraph reports that the Bulgarians have captured Kirk-Kilisseh which lies to the east of Adrianople, where 20,000 Turks surrendered and communication with Constantinople was cut. It is added, however, that there is no official confirmation of this.

The fighting at Plava, which was captured Sunday by the Montenegrins, was very severe. Nine hundred Albanians were killed, including many women and children who were found dead with arms in their hands.

Bulgarians Suffer Loss.
Constantinople, Oct. 22.—Official information concerning a Bulgarian reverse, says that the Bulgarians concentrated at Hanlar in the Dost-pat region, were induced to advance into Ottoman territory by a feigned retreat of the Turks. A strong Turkish force then suddenly attacked the left wing of the Bulgarians who suffered heavily.

American Outlines Situation.
London, Oct. 21.—A prominent American business man who has just returned from Gettlinge gives some interesting information regarding the sudden aggressive tactics of Montenegro in the present war. In an interview today he said:

"The plan of war disclosed to me by King Nicholas has thus far been invariably successful. The capture of Scutari within a fortnight is inevitable. The Montenegrins know the country as well as their own yards and stand in no danger of having their communications cut."

"Although the Montenegrins had been planning the war for three years the outbreak was premature—not a deliberate part of the plan of the Balkan league."

The Montenegrins were concentrated on the border. Each soldier had three days rations. At the end of that time even King Nicholas was powerless to hold them in the leash.

"The Montenegrin soldiers are well equipped. They are splendid fighters. The only question is how well they can stand discipline, having been accustomed only to guerilla warfare."

"On leaving Cetinje I visited the northern division of the Montenegrin army whose general told me that he was expected to form a junction with a Serbian column. The combined armies then would fight their way through Macedonia and form a junction with the Greeks between Uskup and Monaster. They are expected to meet the Turks near Adrianople."

"I found every Balkan troop in perfect harmony, but the Montenegrin and Serbian believe the powers will permit only one or two important battles before they intervene and they are already figuring on a convention similar to that at Berlin. Balkan diplomats have confessed that the arrangement of peace between Italy and Turkey was such a blow to their plans that had the note of the powers been presented a week before the concentration on the Montenegrin border war very likely would have been averted."

"The Balkan league which surprises even its founders by its solidity was formed so secretly that no European diplomat had an inkling to its purpose."

SEVERAL INJURED IN ALTON WRECK

Two Jacksonville People Among Those Hurt When Passenger Jumps Track at Hopedale—None Seriously Hurt.

Hopedale, Ill., Oct. 21.—Several persons were injured today when a Chicago & Alton passenger train was partly derailed by spreading rails. Three cars went off the track but did not go down the bank. A wrecking train went from Bloomington to clear the tracks.

Among the injured, none of whom will die, are:

J. W. Middleton, San Jose, Ill., leg broken.

R. T. Smith, Jacksonville, Ill., arm broken.

L. M. Reyheimer and wife, Delano, Wis., cut and bruised.

Dr. L. L. Lyman, Springfield, Ill., head cut.

W. A. Art, Springfield, Ill., cut and bruised.

L. C. Levering, Petersburg, Ill., legs injured.

The above dispatch was received by Associated Press and among the injured not listed was W. W. Baldwin of this city, who is suffering from a wrenched back and some minor bruises. Mr. Baldwin is a railway postal clerk and was making his first run in about three weeks when the accident happened. He had just recovered from an operation for appendicitis and went to Rockwood Sunday night to report for duty, going through this city Monday morning at 6 o'clock on the train that was wrecked. He returned home Monday night about 6 o'clock from Bloomington, being unable to continue his run to Chicago. No. 33, the southbound passenger due in this city at 3:55 p. m., was about three hours late on account of the wreck. Another resident of this city who was in the wreck but who escaped injury was William Shields of East Lafayette avenue.

A PREPOSTEROUS BIRD.

Mostly Neck, With a Few Extras, Is the Water Turkey.

In the Indian river region of Florida are to be seen islands green with mangrove bushes down to the water's edge. The scene is animated by the presence of many water fowls—pelicans, gallinules, water turkeys, cormorants and ash crows—feeding on the islands, together with smaller numbers of gulls, terns, vultures, ospreys and man-of-war hawks, swooping, skimming and sailing in the air above. In all this array of bird life there is no more curious and interesting creature than the water turkey, which is sometimes called the snake bird.

As the stranger gazes upon this scene he is sometimes apt to think he sees a queer snake wriggling out of the water several feet into the air. If he grabs his gun and fires it is probable that a part of the supposed snake will drop upon the water, while the other part takes wing and flies away.

The stranger wonders whether the snake dropped the bird or the bird the snake. The explanation is quite simple. A snake bird, or water turkey (Platanhinaga), swimming with its long neck only out of the water had the snake in its bill, and the snake was dropped when the gun was fired.

The water turkey has been called the most preposterous bird within the range of ornithology. "He is not a bird," says one authority; "he is a neck, with such subordinate rights, members, appendages and hereditaments thereunto appertaining as seem necessary to that end. He has just enough stomach to arrange nourishment for his neck, just enough wings to fly painfully along with his neck and just big enough legs to keep his neck from dragging on the ground, and his neck is light colored, while the rest of him is black."—New York Sun.

THE HOT STORM

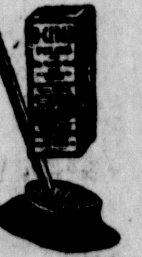

—the stove with a "little furnace" in it

Is the happy combination of both methods. It heats by radiation—from every inch of its great surface; it warms the floor—just as efficiently as a Base Burner; and it circulates continuously a wonderful volume of pure and intensely heated air. "A Parlor Heating Plant." It has been termed—and the phrase fits it exactly. It works like a furnace, because it's built like one, heating all the rooms of a house—upstairs and downstairs—just as efficiently as a furnace.

And now note carefully this fact—no extra fuel is required to feed the Little Furnace. The hot air which it distributes is that which in the ordinary stove is shot up the chimney and wasted. The volume of this hot air has been proven by careful tests to be from 50 to 75 per cent. of all the heat generated from the coal.

GIVES VIEW OF WAR IN BALKAN STATES

MISS KATE BLACKBURN TELLS OF PREPARATIONS IN BULGARIA.

Morgan County Young Woman Has Been at Head of College in Lovetch For Past Twenty Years—Cared For Several Hundred Soldiers There When Troops Were Being Mobilized.

Edmund Blackburn Monday received a letter from his daughter, Miss Kate Blackburn, who is the head of the Methodist school at Lovetch, Bulgaria. The Journal is permitted to print the letter, which will be of great interest to Miss Blackburn's friends and the general public as well because of the state of war which exists in Bulgaria. Miss Blackburn has been at the head of the school mentioned for the past twenty years and has done very effective work there. The letter gives a very graphic account of the situation, from one who is in a position to know the facts and who at the same time knows about conditions in the outside world.

Lovetch, Bulgaria, October 1, 1912.

Dear Homefolks:

So much has happened since yesterday that I think I had better begin to tell you something about it, although long before this can reach you the papers will have told you much more. The war-cloud that has been hanging so low for months seems to have broken over Bulgaria. Certain preparations for war have been going on for some months but there was always the hope that after all the storm would pass. But yesterday afternoon the order was given for a general mobilization of the Bulgarian troops, and last night about 8 o'clock two officials came up to our school and informed me that 5,000 soldiers from the surrounding villages would arrive in Lovetch this morning and that our quota of the number to furnish with quarters on the school premises would be 210. We are a family of 70 ourselves. They looked all through our buildings and decided what rooms they would take for the soldiers. So last night we spent most of the night moving girls, teachers, etc., and this morning we emptied our dining room and other rooms. The soldiers have not arrived yet, but their uniforms are here. They said last night that they would be here for not less than six days. Our first care of last night, after learning about the mobilization of the army, was to send down to the stores, furnace, etc., to secure either bread or flour, for the supplies were being held back for the soldiers. We had no success last evening for everything was shut and police standing guard. However, early this morning our man did succeed in getting a large sack of flour and bread enough for one day. Also quite a quantity of rice. It is a big responsibility to take care of all these girls and provide food under such circumstances.

Friday, Oct. 4.—Since beginning this letter on Tuesday there hasn't been an opportunity to finish it. Our quota of soldiers arrived and fortunately for us those assigned to quarter here are the "veterans." Among them are some of the fathers of girls who are now or have been in our school. They are very orderly and not nearly so dirty as I had feared. Of course, it is difficult in such a crowded condition to arrange for classes and keep the girls under discipline, but we are succeeding pretty well. They took our dining room for soldiers so we have to eat on the desks in the study room, but are grateful to have that much of a place. If we hadn't protested pretty strongly they would have taken that room from us too. We turned over the last purchased property house yard and all to the soldiers. They do their cooking and eat in that yard, but guns and ammunition, etc., were guarded here until distributed. These things were down in Mrs. Eochera's and one of Ahzek's room. We get to see them pack their knapsacks, answer to roll call, etc., in our yard every morning. They go out for practice during the day. Six thousand soldiers are expected from eleven this evening and then the plan is for the whole lot to move on tomorrow. Some will cross the mountain pass at Troyan and some the pass at Shipke. Of course the standing army was sent on by train and are already at the front. These are the reserves and the order was for every able bodied man between the ages of 21 and 60 to report for duty. Our preacher is quarantined to get out of the country. One of our school men is being used in carrying supplies and the other is not a Bulgarian citizen. He may be allowed to remain at home. All the government schools are closed, as the men teachers must go to the front and so the schools cannot go on with work. Our girls and teachers are here and we shall go right on unless the war continues so long that our food supplies give out. By a very special favor I was permitted to get out of the bank here $500 that we had on deposit. When that is finished we can get no more until peace is made. The general opinion is that two or three weeks will settle the question in some way. Do not feel at all alarmed about our personal safety. Every one concedes that Lovetch is as safe a place as can be found in the country and much safer than most parts. Not one of the parents having girls here has expressed any desire to have their daughters go home, but write them to stay, if we can keep them.

We hear that Frances Joseph, the Austrian emperor, has died. That event may greatly change the course of things in Europe. Hungary will most surely rebel now and declare independence from Austria. Political history will make fast, these days, in Europe.

I do hope you will not worry any about us here. I have written Mrs. Kuhl that we may have to call upon the emergency fund to help out our supply of food this year, for war prices are on and will continue even if all ends with the mobilization of the army, for that is such an enormous expense. Bulgaria will have 600,000 soldiers in the field. Serbia is an ally with 400,000, making 1,000,000. Greece is in the league, but I don't know her quota of soldiers. Will write often and let you know how things are going. Love to all.

Mrs. T. A. Towne, 107 6th street, Watertown, S. D., writes: "My four children are subject to hard colds and I always use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound with splendid results. Some time ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and the doctor prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it soon overcame the la grippe. I can always depend upon Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and am sure of good results." City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

ADDRESSED STUDENTS.

Dr. J. W. Miller Talks to J. H. S. Pupils on "The Ministry." The third address of the series on Vocations at the high school was given Monday morning by Dr. J. W. Miller of Grace church. His subject was "The Ministry." In speaking of the motive in choosing vocations, Dr. Miller emphasized the fact that the young man who chooses the ministry should do so because it is the best place to do good in the world. No other profession holds higher ideals than the ministry. The chief work of the minister is bringing man to himself.

No profession offers a better field for self-improvement. The modern minister must be a student and at the same time must come into intimate contact with the leading men of his community. The minister is a mold of public opinion. He must boldly stand for his convictions. In all questions of right. The pulpit has more to do than the press in crystallizing sentiment against slavery.

A candidate for the ministry should have a splendid physique and such health and energy that he can withstand the severe nervous strain to which the modern minister is subjected. Three-fourths of all ministers are college bred; perhaps a larger per cent than any other profession can show. The profession is not over-crowded like medicine and law. On the other hand, many pulpits are seeking in vain for competent men. The minister is assured a good living from the start and men of ability find rapid advancement. The salaries of the ministers of this city compare favorably with those of the city officials and other salaried men.

OPEN MEETING THURSDAY.
In connection with their celebration in this city Thursday the Odd Fellows will hold an open meeting in the park Thursday afternoon to which the public is cordially invited. Among the speakers on the program is Hon. L. Y. Sherman and music will be furnished by Jeffries band. At 4:30 o'clock there will be a balloon ascension. In case the weather is not favorable the meeting will be held in Armory hall.

ELECTION IN CUBA.
Washington, Oct. 20.—The state department was advised today that great excitement prevails throughout Cuba over the presidential election which takes place Nov. 1. It is understood that General Montecagudo, chief of police of Havana and the ministers of public instruction and interior, have resigned, although only the resignation of the minister of the interior has been accepted. The leading candidates for the presidency are Dr. Alfredo Zayas, the present vice president, liberal, and General Mincol, conservative. President Gomez is not a candidate for reelection.

ALL FIGHTS CALLED OFF.
Sidney, Australia, Oct. 21.—Jack Johnson will not fight in Australia. Hugh McIntosh, who had offered Johnson $50,000 for fights with Sam Langford and Sam McVey or Joe Jeannette, cabled today to W. W. Kelly, his representative in Chicago, to cancel all negotiations. McIntosh explained that Johnson's part in the alleged abduction had so angered the sporting men and public of Australia that the matches were no longer desirable.

THE SCHOOLS AT ALEXANDER

An Enjoyable Visit by a Journal Reporter and Several Facts of Interest Gleaned.

The writer had the great pleasure Monday of a visit with the public schools of Alexander and was much gratified by what he saw and heard. Knocking at the door of the primary room the visitor was delighted to be met by his valued friend, Miss Josephine Yeck, who teaches the first, second, third and fourth grades. She has a bright set of pupils and the writer heard some of them recite and they did very well. Asked about equipment, Miss Yeck was loud in her praises of the directors, who she said authorized her to get whatever she felt she needed and have it charged to the district. There seemed to be a good equipment of maps, charts, books and the like and on the wall were four pictures belonging to the school. They were George Washington, Martha Washington, Rosa Bonheur's horse fair and a picture illustrating a scene in one of Tennyson's poems, as the writer remembers. To those Miss Yeck has added a few smaller ones of her own and some more of the right kind would be a suitable addition. The rooms are yet furnished with the old fashioned oak heating stoves which would be improved by the modern furnaces for such places and which have been so largely adopted in the county. Some paint on and about the building would also be wise though the building had nothing of a shabby look. Unfortunately the lot on which the school house stands is quite small but it is well supplied with shade trees which are large and fine. Of course in a village large school house grounds can hardly be expected.

The advanced pupils are taught by G. L. Masters, the worthy principal and he too was most hospitable in his reception of the scribe and was a genuine good host. His pupils are older, of course, and all were bright and interesting. His room is supplied with a cabinet organ and it is used too. It also has several pictures which are valuable and a few more could well be placed on the walls though all credit and honor for the ones which are there.

After recess the pupils of both rooms were assembled in the principal's room and listened to a talk from the visitor. He told them of different parts of the world, the most attractive and the least, and he was heard with good attention and all maintained excellent order. The pupils seemed interested in what was said to them though they somehow failed to ask as many questions as the caller would have liked, but they were not well acquainted and the lack of interrogatories was not due to any small amount of ability or intelligence. Next time they will probably be more curious to know something in addition to what the visitor tells them.

Mr. Masters said as they had quite a number of pupils pass the trial examination last year they hoped to be able to take up the study of some of the higher branches after the holidays.

While in the town the visitor had the great pleasure of a visit and dinner with his valued and worthy friend, Mrs. Colwell, whose courtesy and hospitality will not soon be forgotten.

ACTION DEFERRED.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—Action toward holding the referendum vote in the Modern Woodmen organization was deferred today when the referendum board provided for in the Donahue bill, met in this city. The postponement was due to the fact a temporary injunction had been issued by Judge McKinley of Chicago, restraining the head officers of the organization from making any move towards holding the referendum vote.

FUNERAL NOTICE.
The funeral of the late Mrs. J. F. Mendonca will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at State Street Presbyterian church, services in charge of Rev. H. D. French, assisted by Rev. W. E. Spoonce. Those who wish to view the remains will call at Gillham's undertaking establishment. The casket will not be opened at the church.

WILL TOUR OHIO.
Washington, Oct. 21.—Attorney General Wickham will deliver several campaign speeches in Ohio this week for President Taft beginning at Barnesville Wednesday night. The remainder of his itinerary is to be mapped out by the Ohio state committee.

Some Quaint Hotels.
The hotel that stands out the most prominently in my recollection is one in Iquique, where, even while you are sitting at the dining tables, vendors come in from the streets to sell you food. At this same hotel they have two charges for baths—8 shillings if you insist upon clean water and about 4 shillings if you are willing to take a second turn at the tub.

Another instance of a quaint hotel is in the town of Africa, in Peru. Here they are using at the present time the hull of an old American man-of-war, which was taken inland by a great tidal wave many years ago and has since been fitted up as a hotel and is in great demand.—London Answers.

Everlasting Yeast.
A yeast that is always ready, in hot weather or cold, in town or on the farm, may be had if at each baking is saved a small quantity of the bread sponge before any salt has been used. To this must be added about one-half the same amount of sugar for a preservative. I have used the same yeast in this way for two and one-half years now, and it is as good as ever. Freezing does it no harm. No salt should be used. If in warm weather it seems to be without life, try it with a little flour and water, and it will be all right. This makes the finest possible bread.—National Magazine.

A Problem He Hadn't Solved.
In 1865 there went to Paris a young Belgian named De Groof, who was fully convinced that he had solved the problem of aerial flight. He did not succeed in interesting French experts, but later in England met with some encouragement. Finally, in the presence of a large crowd De Groof made his attempt. His machine was attached to a balloon, and after reaching a height of 4,000 feet he cut himself loose. The machine fell like a stone and crashed down upon the rough pavement of Robert street, Chelsea, with a sickening thud. De Groof was dead.—New York Tribune.

The Way They Struck.
A company of Italian laborers engaged in the construction of a railway in Germany had their wages reduced. They said nothing, but during the night each of the men cut an inch of the end of his shovel. In reply to the foreman who took them to task about it one of them said, "Not so much pay, not lift so much earth. So much longer last work. Italian not fool like German. Italians not strike!"—London Mail.

Another Way to Put It.
"After all," said the moralist, "the almighty dollar is man's greatest enemy. It"—
"If that's so," interrupted old Roxey, "I guess that young wife of mine merely loves me for the enemies I've made."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Discrimination.
"Did you ever tell that young man that late hours were bad for one?" asked the father at the breakfast table.
"Well, father," replied the wise daughter, "late hours may be bad for one, but they're all right for two."—Yonkers Statesman.

WAVES OF LIGHT.

They Vary In Length and on That Account Vary In Color.

OUR SUNLIGHT IS PURE WHITE

The Arc Light Is Its Closest Rival, With Its 10,000 Candle Power Per Inch—The Way a Human Being With X Ray Eyes Would Be Handicapped.

Light travels at a speed of 186,000 miles a second. The source of all light, except the light from freedies and their kin, is a substance raised to a temperature sufficient to set up waves in the surrounding ether. Light waves vary in length between 1.33400 and 1.65000 of an inch, the first being extreme red and the second being extreme violet. Rays of white light have a length of 1.45000 of an inch. The sun is a great mass of white hot matter.

In an arc lamp it is the white hot particles of carbon floating between the two electrodes which produce light. In the incandescent lamp it is the hair-pin filament inside the glass globe which, when heated by electricity, gives off light waves. In gas and oil lamps light is produced by the heated particles of carbon in the flame above the wick or mantle. The eye can stand without tiring a brilliancy of about five candlepower per square inch of surface. The ordinary candle flame gives from two to three candlepower per square inch, while the sun at zenith gives 400,000 candlepower per square inch. The arc light ranks next to sunlight, with 10,000 candlepower per inch and the best tungsten filament incandescents give about 1,000 candlepower.

The prism shows us that white light is composed of a happy blend of all the colors of the spectrum. The sun gives the only pure white light, with the arc lamp a close second, and the metal filament incandescents taking third place. Sky light, such as comes from the north on a clear day, is bluish white. Gas flames give a greenish light, open flame a yellow light and kerosene an orange light.

In the dark no color exists. The color of light depends upon the length of the waves. The light source which we know as red gives off only waves of a length to produce that particular color. A body appears red because its surface absorbs all the other waves and reflects the red waves back into the eye. A thing looks black when it is capable of absorbing all the colors at once.

Light rays, being in active motion, produce heat when they meet with resistance in their path. This is why black clothing is warmer in summer than white clothing, the resistance being on the surface of the white clothing and nearer the skin when we wear black.

The eyes have only a certain range, weak enough at best. As we all know, there are times when all appears black to us and yet animals can see. The trouble is the faint light rays move too slowly to be registered on the human retina. The X ray has proved beyond a doubt that there are light rays which move too fast for human eyes to register. This light penetrates books, wood, paper and even human flesh.

With the X rays to assist our eyes we can see the bones in our arm without bothering to remove our shirt. But a man with X ray eyes would be sadly handicapped in this world, for he could see nothing but solids, such as earths and metals, and would be unable to see a board fence at all. To us all is darkness beyond what our eyes will register.

Light rays themselves are invisible. When they move through the ether alone our eyes cannot see them; consequently all is total darkness. But when they meet with the resistance of our atmosphere, producing heat, they register on the retina, and, behold, we can see. As the atmosphere thins rapidly as we go upward, so, in proportion, the air resistance diminishes, and consequently the heat of the sun seems to grow less. This explains why the tops of very high mountains are always covered with snow.—New York Press.

Simple Directions.
They were telling stories of the late Andrew Lang in one of the clubs the other night.

One man told a story of a dinner invitation given by Mr. Lang. He was staying in Marlowes road, Earl's court, a street away at the end of that long Cromwell road, which seems to go on forever. The guest was not very sure how to get to Marlowes road, and Lang very kindly explained.

"Walk right along Cromwell road," he said, "till you drop dead, and my house is just opposite!"—London Answers.

At the Musicales.
"How did you like Miss Kazozzie's aria at the musicale last night?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle.

"I didn't notice it," replied Mrs. Gottalotte, "but I thought them back earrings she had on looked kind of cheap."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Something Wrong.
Mrs.—Am I still "the star of your life," as I was when you used to write love letters to me? Mr.—Of course, dear. Mrs.—I don't seem to be drawing a star salary, though.

Action from youth, advice from middle age, prayers from the aged.—He slod.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS

Those that make for comfort, convenience and economy and are lived up to—such are the resolutions to install gas in the home, as a means for lighting, heating and cooking. Certainly no intelligent man or woman today would be without gas unless they were where it could not be secured. As a matter of fact, people in the country realize so fully its advantages that they have imitated it by installing acetylene plants, which are extremely costly. However, for the small sum of $1.25 per room, you can have gas in your home. Why not see us today about this matter?

Delicious "Syrup of Figs" For A Bad Liver or Sluggish Bowels

This Gentle, Effective Fruit Laxative Thoroughly Cleans Your Stomach, Liver and Thirty Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Poisons, Gases and Clogged-up Waste.

A harmless cure for sick headache, bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic, for biliousness, for a sour, gassy, disordered stomach, for constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, salivary glands, pimples—take delicious Syrup of Figs. For the cause of all these troubles lies in a torpid liver and sluggish condition of your thirty feet of bowels.

A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs to night means all poisonous waste matter, the undigested, fermenting food and sour bile, gently moved on and out of your system by morning, without griping, nausea or weakness. It means a cheery day tomorrow—many bright days thereafter.

Please don't think of gentle, effective Syrup of Figs as a physic. Don't think you are dragging yourself, for luscious figs, senna and aromatics can not injure anyone. This remarkable fruit preparation is a wonderful stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic, the safest and most positive ever devised. The day of violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts and castor oil is past. They were all wrong. You got relief, but at what a cost! They acted by flooding the bowels with fluids, but these fluids were digestive juices. Syrup of Figs emollient only harmless laxatives, which act in a natural way. It does what right food would do—what eating lots of fruit and what plenty of exercise will do for the liver, stomach and bowels.

Be sure you get the old reliable and genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. Hand back, with scorn, any "Fig Syrup" imitation recommended as "just as good."

INSTITUTE HELD AT ALEXANDER

FARMERS BEGIN SERIES OF MEETINGS.

Well Known Speakers Discuss Subjects Relative to Soil and Agricultural Pursuit.

The first attempt at the farmers' institute for this year was made Monday at Alexander but owing to a variety of reasons the attendance was hardly what it should have been. The meeting was held in Beerup's hall which was tolerably well filled though there was a deplorable absence of farmers partly because the hour had been changed from evening to afternoon only Monday morning so that few understood it. However the speakers of the day went right ahead just as earnestly as if the room had been full of those most interested. The ladies of the town deserve credit for their attendance as well as Supt. Story.

The schools were also closed to enable the pupils to attend though not nearly all of them were there but those who did come heard something well worth while.

Soil Fertility.
The first speaker was Lindley Reese of Panama and his theme was the all important one of securing and maintaining the fertility of the soil. Of his remarks a short outline is given:

This is one of the richest counties in the state and this immediate neighborhood is one of the richest in the county so that it is possible that the farmers about here do not feel so much the necessity of studying the subject of good farming. There are counties far ahead of this in the subject of soil fertility and maintenance though it can hardly be said to their credit for they have been whipped into it by sheer necessity. Bond county is a conspicuous example of this. Their soil was worn out; none of the best at the start with so many hills and yellow land and well nigh starvation stared them in the face when they began studying into the question of soil improvement and maintenance and the result has been that they have gone ahead by leaps and bounds; silos have gone up, cow peas and soy beans have been planted to fertilize the soil and now Bond county farmers are smiling over their increased crops all around.

Men have said the soil of Morgan county is inexhaustible, but you might as well say that a man may constantly check on a bank account without making a deposit and the account will not be exhausted. I was raised in Old Virginia and when a boy my father showed me fine farms with magnificent houses and the land was worth $150 an acre. My father told me the only way I could ever get one of those farms was by inheritance which was out of the question or by marriage which was wholly improbable. Today those same farms may be bought for $3.50 an acre and some for less. The fine houses are there but no longer fine. The roofs are off of some and none are kept up. The mahogany stairways are rotting down and decay is spelled on everything all because the once rich soil has been worn out.

Two Kinds of Farmers.
We are in the midst of a presidential campaign and the friends of each candidate will tell you it is of imperative importance that his man be elected but the fertility of the soil is of far more consequence. Poverty is the author of more crime than anything else. There are two kinds of farmers; one who care for their farms, keep up the soil and make things go; the other kind are careless and get along any way and come to poverty. The man who fails to keep up the fertility of his land is like a robber or a thief; taking from the soil that which he does not return.

The Virginia soil was better than this but it was ruined, the intelligent people moved away and all is desolation or hard times there now. You have been robbing the soil in this community for a hundred years and will have to pay the penalty if you do not change. God could kill all the chickens by a fiat. He could kill all the cattle by a fiat. He could even destroy the people by a fiat, but even that would not be as disastrous to the country as the destruction of the soil. If the people were destroyed others would sooner or later come in and fill up the country but were the soil destroyed this would be a desert. What God could do by a fiat we have been doing for many years and it is high time to call a halt.

Nitrogen Needed.
What is needed is nitrogen. In soil fertility there are eighty substances of which 20 are more conspicuous and of these thirteen are most prominent and if any one of these be lacking a crop will not grow. There is enough potash in the ground and possibly some pulverized lime stone would be good but nitrogen is the main thing. We can't afford to buy it for the cost of it commercially would be prohibitory but let me tell you; for each square inch of air over the land there is twelve pounds of nitrogen and at 15 cents a pound each square inch of atmosphere is worth $1.80 so that the value of the nitrogen on each acre to which should be added that over waterways and all space not cultivated would make the value per cultivated acre worth several millions of dollars and that we may avail ourselves of it we will take the proper course.

An honest German bought a piece of pea land, black as ink and thought he had a gold mine; it was loose and in excellent shape but the first year he raised 15 bushels of corn to the acre and that was the largest till it went almost to nothing. His family grew up in dire poverty and his wife died largely from hard work. One of his boys went to the agricultural college at Urbana and asked the professor of soils what was the matter. The professor looked over the fine black land and said only a chemical analysis would determine it. They referred the question to a distinguished soil chemist of New York.

That man said from their description there never had been any timber or prairie grass or other vegetation on that land to produce potash for moss and peat will burn away to nothing. The old German put $3.50 worth of potash to the acre on the land and that year raised eighty bushels of corn to the acre and with years in his eyes he said for thirty years he had been dragging along on that land, had killed his wife with hard work all because he didn't know enough about what his land needed and the $3.50 worth of potash to the acre was enough for ten years. How much it is worth to know how.

Benefits of Alfalfa.
I would like to talk about alfalfa but it is not my topic but I will merely suggest that a group of alfalfa on an acre is worth as much to feed as 250 bushels of corn; ten tons of timothy, 350 bushels of oats and other things in proportion. If I were able truthfully, to tell you that ten thousand dollars in gold was buried somewhere in this vicinity how one and all would get out and dig for that treasure and yet you have far more than that if you will use the right means with your soil. Clover, cow peas, soy beans all will draw from the air the nitrogen you need and enrich the land so that you may get good interest on land costing $1,000 an acre. There are those who will remember and that not so very long ago, when often in the early spring the horizon would be aglow with stalk fields on fire. That is somewhat a thing of the past and men have learned to cut up the stalks and plow them under which is far better.

A distinguished agriculturist, Mr. Wing, of this country visited France and was entertained by a gentleman who owned a large estate which was well cultivated and told his guest that the same family had owned that land for a thousand years and he had records showing that his crops were well nigh double the size of the yields a thousand years before. So we see what maintenance of the soils will do.

Education As a Help.
One of the saddest sounds in the world is that of the saucer on the bottom of the meal barrel when hungry children are around crying for bread, yet we are coming to that very thing. We must live where our work is if we are to succeed in it. A man had a large tract of land and two boys and a daughter. He sent the boys to school and they graduated from the high school when he told them he would not at all dictate what their calling should be but would ask them to go to Urbana and take a course in the agricultural college which they did and they were so impressed with what they learned and saw that they both decided to stick to the land.

In my vicinity is a dear old lady; Aunt Nancy Bell, who loves flowers. I once saw her approach a rose bush pet the lovely flowers lovingly and with tears in her eyes she knelt on the ground and thanked her Maker for the lovely gift. She is now bed-ridden but I love to go to her home, kneel by her side and have her take my hand in both of hers and talk with me and if any of you ever are near my home I hope you will try to see her.

This is a great subject and we cannot close our eyes to its importance. Only along the hedge rows where we cannot plow is the land what it should be. How long will this continue. We have a grand state and native soil but we must cure it.

Mrs. Bangs on Household Science.
Mrs. Bangs was the next speaker introduced and spoke on household science.

We used to think of education as something a good way off that it meant big words. There are many parts in the world. Fine art pertains to pictures, statuary and the like but there are many other arts. Art is knowing how to do a thing; science is knowing the principles of the thing, the ways and wherefore. Many ladies do not know how to do work well but follow in the old beaten paths without advancement. I well remember in my early childhood when we were sent for fire if the fire went out at home and often when we went visiting one would have to stay at home to keep the fire from going out but after a while matches were perfected and there was no more trouble. There are certain things we only know now to use them. Steam has always been a power but not until a boy saw it raise the lid of his mother's teakettle and the steam engine followed. Then a boy who worked in a coal mine and whose father was a miner before him began to think that steam might make vehicles go and when George Stephenson went before parliament and asked help and legislation he said he expected he would go faster than a dog could run and a grave and reverend law maker said the fellow must be a lunatic.

Wise to Study Laws.
It is always wise to study into the law of what we are doing. To do our work well is an art. To know why we do certain things is a science. From early days we have been tormented with mosquitoes yet only until recently did we know that certain insects of that kind carry yellow fever and now that disease is well nigh stamped out by the scientific knowledge of the facts pertaining to the fearful disease. Now it is suggested that infantile paralysis is carried by the house fly. That insect breeds best in manure heaps and garbage and by proper care it may be largely eliminated. Another germ destroyer is the sun. In India the ladies hang out whatever is likely to be infected in any way and the fearfully hot sun does the work. So much for knowing how. The profession of housework is as noble as any other and should be dignified in every way possible. All the education that can be secured is none too good to aid one in being a better housekeeper. If the daughter be not well prepared for this all important duty she is likely to be a poor helpmeet for her future husband.

In the agricultural college at Urbana are 765 boys learning how to be better farmers. There is too a short course for girls in January and then they are taught to keep house and the principles of domestic science and the course is valuable. There should be household science clubs in every community. In one place of not more than 200 inhabitants I know of such a club with 70 members, made up of ladies from the farm as well as from the towns. If you want to know how to start one of these write to Mrs. H. A. McKee, Springfield and to the agricultural college at Urbana to be put on the mailing list and to the department at Washington for the same.

The remarks of the gifted lady were heard with much interest.

Mrs. Paul Wehling, 316 Smith St., Peoria, Ill., had kidney and bladder trouble, with terrible backache and pain across the hips. "I imagine her condition. She further says: 'I was also very nervous, had headache and dizzy spells and was fast getting worse when I took Foley Kidney Pills, and now all my troubles are cured. Foley Kidney Pills have done so much for me I shall always recommend them.' City Drug-Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

MAKE FINAL PLANS.
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Final campaign plans were discussed by Chairman McCombs of the Democratic national committee in conference here today with Democratic leaders.

Charles Bryan, brother of William Jennings Bryan, and Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, chairman of the campaign committee, were in conference with Mr. McCombs for two hours.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.
George W. Koons, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist.

A Night of Terror.
Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup and nothing in the house to relieve it. Many mothers have passed nights of terror in this situation. A little forethought will enable you to avoid all this. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Keep it at hand. For sale by all dealers.

OLIVE TABLETS OIL THE BOWELS.

A Physician's Substitute For Dangerous Calomel.

When you feel that your liver and bowels need help take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Substitute for Calomel. Calomel is effective, but dangerous—causing bad after-effects. Olive Tablets are especially made to take the place of Calomel. Dr. Edwards for years has been Calomel's foe. He saw its dangers and its disadvantages in 17 years' practice, treating patients for all kinds of liver and bowel complaints. In his efforts to do without Calomel he developed his now famous little olive-oil-colored tablets. Olive Tablets are mild but effective. Safe and sure. Pleasant to take but unfailing in results.

Olive Tablets oil the bowels just enough to start Nature's own action, and they tone up the liver at the same time. They are made from a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

If you want to regain that feeling of joyous buoyancy and clear thought take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work like a vacation. 10 and 25 cents per box.

"Every Little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

QUEER SENSATION

How It Feels to Go Under the Influence of Chloroform.

THE DIZZY DIVE INTO SLEEP.

And After the Surgical Operation Is Over the Confused Awakening That Brings Torture to the Patient From the Terrible Thirst That Follows.

In the American Magazine a writer vividly reports the sensations he had at the time he was operated on for appendicitis. Following is his account of the sensations he experienced as he went under the anaesthetic:

"Don't let them begin cutting too soon." I have since learned that this injunction by the patient was not original with me. They all say it.

"My anaesthetist assures that he won't."

"This is pleasant, being chloroformed—If only the chloroform would take effect. Evidently you are a hard subject to put under. You hope that they are interpreting the difficulty. Perhaps they are, for they seem to be working more persistently, and the warty odors are somewhat increased. But all that is accomplished is to make your ears buzz, interfering with the point of the funny story which your anaesthetist is now telling to the nurses."

"Sheep deepy," you warn. "Not chlor'form, though. Jus' tired."

"All right," responds your anaesthetist. "No hurry."

"The little room is very quiet. Without, in the corridors, are careless laughter, patter of busy feet; but, within, a small silent circle is gravely watching that wondrous and merciful transformation of a quick and sentient being into a living corpse."

"Sleep minute. Wait-bit. Not ready."

"The buzzing is annoying; it gives a dizzy sensation. Aside from that, your eyes and tongue together are deliciously heavy, and you simply have got to take a little nap."

"G'by. Don't start. Canfeelyet."

"You will have to depend upon the other persons in the room to keep the surgeons away while you are helplessly dozing. They will, won't they? Meanwhile the blackness behind your closed eyes is curiously scintillant with flat sparks. The buzzing of swarming bees in your ears is terrific. And as you gaze and listen, with sudden sickening swoop, you have slipped from the pallet and headlong plunge down, down, down through midnight space. Struggling, pawing, fighting for a way, you rise out of the depths of the leucian dive and break the surface. Like butterflies the white caps and sweet faces of nurses flutter above you. Your eyes refuse to focus, and wearily you must close them. What's the matter, what has happened, where are you, and why? Why is a mouse? You stammer with thick utterance, appealing generally.

"Where'm I?"

"In your room."

"This is to be digested a moment. Then abruptly a poignant alarm assails. The question quavers weakly, fearfully.

"But they haven't done it yet?"

"Oh, yes." The nurse's voice tinkles seraphic. "It's all over with."

"Thank God! And you're alive. The lady who married you must be so informed at once."

"What time is it?"

"Eleven o'clock."

"Jerusalem! Four hours obliterated—wiped off the mental map, leaving trace of not even a dream! Impossible! Or is this itself but a dream? You would like to explore that spot to see if the news is really true, but you dare not lest you wake yourself up in the midst of the operation. And as you again open your mouth, in sickly, babyish fashion, the ministering angel in white cap deftly inserts an ambrosial swab-icy cold, wet and grateful as a drop of water to a Dives. When you shut down upon it as feverishly as a starving kitten she says: 'Don't do that. Don't swallow any. It will make you sick.' This diverts you.

"Can't I have a drink?"

"Yes, I'll give you a drink." And so she does—a teaspoonful of hot water, which I am instructed to swallow slowly.

"It has about as much effect on that tarred and feathered tongue as a drop of dew on a hip rubber boot."

"This is a new occupation—waiting for that teaspoonful of hot water which arrives every half hour. One's thoughts dwell upon it and one listens eagerly for the nurse's step returning; one's mouth opens in advance, like a nestling bird's. To such a plane is reduced a once strong mind."

"In the midst of this humiliating pastime the lady who married me enters timidly, half smilingly, half tearfully."

"Dearest," she says, "how are you?"

"Fine," I say. "Listen. Come closer. Let us sing 'Little Drops of Water.'"

"The nurse makes her withdrawal, and she goes blanching, because she deems me crazed by my experiences of the past ten hours."

"The dose is doubled to two teaspoonfuls at a time. Nevertheless, despite this generosity in water rights, the waking dreams of a human being dying on the Death valley desert obsess the brain."

Trouble is the one thing for which any borrower can get unlimited credit.

Specific Blood Poison

Specific Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins usually by a tiny sore which is the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous poison is at work and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Specific Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smolder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to remove the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes the last trace of the infectious virus, tones up the stomach, bowels, kidneys and all portions of the system, and thus makes a perfect and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks; it does not contain a particle of mineral or other harmful drug. Thousands have cured themselves of Specific Blood Poison by the use of S. S. S. It will cure you if you will give it a trial. Special Home Treatment book and any medical advice free.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Are You Subject to Constipation?

Here is a Simple Way of Correcting It Instantly Before It Becomes Chronic.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salt waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary value in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary, and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind the name of a fruit or a vegetable, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effect when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsers of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, homes like those of Mr. O. P. Miller, Baroda, Mich., and Mrs. Peter W. Lichtenberger, New Harmony, Ind. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, null and non-griping. Unlike harsh physics it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again, when all medicines can be dispensed with. You can obtain a bottle at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

GENERAL MARKET NEWS

HEAVY ARRIAVLS CRUSH ADVANCE

Close of Wheat is Same as Saturday Night—Corn Remains Unchanged.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Heavy arrivals of wheat at primary terminals crushed an advance today due to growing fear as to the serious nature of the struggle with Turkey. The result was at the close the prices
the same as Saturday night, to be up. Latest trading left corn unchanged to 1c lower; oats either not altered or within 1/2c decline, and provisions 2 1/2c to 2 3/4c down.
For a while wheat traders here paid chief attention to signs that European markets were becoming more agitated in regard to the consequences of the Balkan war. Higher insurance rates were being quoted at London, and there were assertions that the topmost charges in 55 years had been exacted from vessel from the Black sea to western Europe. Such influences, however, gradually gave way to considerations nearer at hand.
December ranged from 92 1/2 to 92 3/4
@ 1/2c, with last sales a shade net higher at 92 3/4c.
Predictions of fair weather weakened the corn market. Bulls were discouraged also by the scantiness of the shipping call.
December fluctuated from 52 1/2
@ 52 3/4 and 53 1/2c; closing steady
1/2c net lower at 53 1/2c.
Oats showed little evidence of demand, but selling pressure was not important. December ranged between 32 1/2 @ 32 3/4 and 32 3/4c, with the close 1/2c off at 32 3/4c.
Holders of provisions, especially for nearby delivery inclined to liquidate on account of a basket in the hog market. October ribs suffered the worst, a loss of 22 1/2c net.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

though election day itself is only three weeks off, the national campaign occasions no more excitement than it did two months ago. As yet there are no indications of the proverbial "whirlwind finish." The candidates Roosevelt and Johnson, Wilson and Marshall, with a host of lesser lights who have been intrusted by the several parties with the work of spell-binding, will continue on the stump, but as the entire country has now been pretty well covered it is hardly to be expected that the campaign tours will attract more attention than heretofore.

So far as his plans have been announced President Taft has no important public engagements for the week. It is expected he will journey on Saturday to Cambridge Springs, Pa., to deliver the principal address at the dedication of the Polish National Alliance college there. The institution is the first college of the Polish National Alliance in this country and the total membership of 100,000 of that organization scattered throughout the United States will unite to make the dedication a memorable event.

The commerce court has fixed Thursday as the time for hearing arguments on the constitutionality of the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission requiring the oil pipe line companies to file schedules of their rates for transporting oil.

The entrance in the international balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy will gather at Stuttgart, Germany, at the end of the week in readiness for the start of the contest. The United States, Germany, Belgium, France, Austria and Switzerland will be represented by three balloons each; Italy by two, and Denmark, England and Russia by one each.

The National Dairy Show will have its opening in Chicago Thursday. More than a dozen national associations connected with the dairy industry will hold their conventions in Chicago during the week of the show.

Other important gatherings of the week will be the International Dry Farming Congress, at Lethbridge, Alta.; the meeting of the American Missionary association, at Buffalo, and the annual convention of the Association of Railway Electrical Engineers at Chicago.

HAS ALEXANDER FOUND THE SAME?

The Answer is Found in the Straight-forward Statement of an Alexander Resident.

We have been reading week after week in the local press of Jacksonville citizens who have been rid of distressing kidney and bladder troubles by Doan's Kidney Pills, and we have often wondered whether the same high opinion of this medicine is to be found in our neighboring towns. This frank and earnest statement by a well-known and respected resident of Alexander will set this doubt at rest.

John William Aulabaugh, farmer, Alexander, Ill., says: "About two years ago I took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and will say that they did me more good than all the doctors I had experimented with. I have been bothered very little with my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

OBJECTS TO PETITION.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—Objections were filed with Secretary of State Doyle today against the nomination petition of Frank W. Lattin, candidate for the lower house of the legislature from the forty-third senatorial district, comprising the counties of Knox and Fulton.

It is claimed Lattin's petition does not contain a sufficient number of signatures, that some are not verified as required by law and that the appellation "Progressive party for social justice" was written upon the document after the signatures had been secured.

Secretary Doyle set 10 a. m. next Friday as the time for hearing objections in the case, the hearing to be held at Galeburg.

ORDERED TO GUANTANAMO.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The naval collier Brutus, has been ordered from Key West to Guantanamo to take on stores and coal for the American warships on the coast of Mexico. The Brutus will meet the Tampico and the Des Moines at Vera Cruz. This is taken to indicate that the United States expects to keep the warships in Mexican waters for some time.

VOTING MACHINE IS GIVEN TEST

Illinois Supreme Court is Given Practical Demonstration of Its Operation.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—The Illinois supreme court this afternoon was given a practical demonstration of the operation of a voting machine such as is used in the city of Chicago. Twelve men cast their votes by the aid of the machine and the time consumed varied from forty seconds to three minutes.

Representations to the supreme court as to the time necessary to vote with the assistance of the machines, made in the case of Franklin S. Catlin and Morton D. Hull vs. the Chicago election committee was responsible for the machine being brought to Springfield. Representatives Catlin and Hull seek a writ of mandamus to compel the election commissioners to substitute the regular manner of voting for the voting machines in the coming election in Cook county. The petitioners claim that the use of the machines will have the effect of disfranchising of thousands of voters for the reason the entire vote in many of the precincts cannot be cast with the machines in the ten hours allowed the electors. It was also set forth that the average voter could not cast his ballot on the machine in the one minute allotted by the voting machine law.

Following oral arguments in the case by Frank Loesch by the petitioners and John J. Herriek for election committee the case was submitted to the court on briefs and the decision will probably be given tomorrow morning.

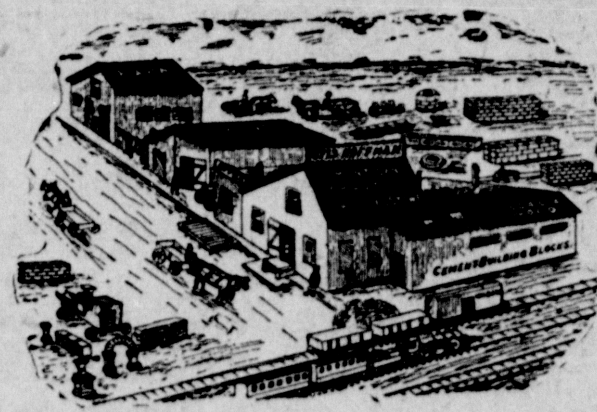

J. G. Criswell, a painter living at 544 North Mulberry street, Hagerstown, Md., states: "I had kidney trouble with a severe pain across my back and could hardly get up after sitting down. I took Foley Kidney Pills and soon found the pain left my back. I could get up and down with ease, and the bladder action was more regular and normal." Try them." City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

DENOUNCE "WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGNS"

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 21.—Evangelists and evangelism occupied the attention of the international convention of Disciples of Christ at the closing sessions of the convention here today. What started out in the afternoon to be a debate on the question whether the methods of the leading evangelists of the church were "sane and scriptural" developed into a general denunciation of sensational and spectacular means of obtaining "additions" to the churches.

"Whirlwind campaigns" use of "decoy converts" and other devices, were roundly criticized.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL HAS NEW BULLETINS.

Consumers Should Learn to Use Poor Cuts of Meat—Rations for Dairy Cows are Suggested.

Up-up-up goes the price of meat, and the end is not yet in sight, for the demand for beef cattle is greater than the supply. Then what is the poor "ultimate consumer" to do? Quit eating meat. That's one way. A better one is to make a study of meats and learn what nutritious and appetizing value some of the cheaper cuts of meat have. "Those who would buy meats most intelligently must know the nature of the different cuts, especially with reference to the value of edible meat cut from different parts of the carcass. It is highly essential to the entire beef industry on the one hand, and the economic welfare of the beef eating public on the other, that a more intelligent understanding of the different cuts of meat be acquired by consumers generally."

The University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station has just published a hundred page bulletin No. 158 entitled "Relative Economy, Composition and Nutritive Value of the Various Cuts of Beef." It is written by L. D. Hall and A. D. Emmett of the Animal Husbandry department and contains data that is of the utmost value to the housewife and interest to "the man that pays the bills." The bulletin is illustrated by many tables, photographs of cuts of beef and drawings and graphs to show results of the numerous experiments and analyses that were made by the authors.

Rations for Dairy Cows.

Are you one of the many dairymen who still persist in feeding your dairy cows a ration composed largely of corn and such roughage as corn stover, timothy hay, etc., which make an unbalanced ration?

The standard balanced ration for dairy cows is fairly well determined and there is no need of making a mistake of that kind. To determine just the amount of loss sustained by feeding the unbalanced ration the Department of Dairy Husbandry of the University of Illinois conducted an experiment with two lots of nine cows each for 131 days. Lot 1 was fed a balanced ration and lot 2 an unbalanced ration. It was found that "the quality of the ration effects the physical condition of the animal, and the physical condition vitally affects consumption and production."

This bulletin, No. 159, on "Balanced vs. Unbalanced Rations for Dairy Cows" was written by Professors Wilber J. Fraser and Cassius C. Hayden of the Dairy Husbandry department. Dairymen and farmers generally will find this ten page bulletin of vital interest and value to them. The plan of the experiment is given as well as the results in production and differences in feed consumed.

Work for Rural Schools.

Professor A. W. Nolan of the Agricultural Extension Department of the University of Illinois was once the principal of a rural high school. This high school was somewhat different from a great many rural high schools for there was something doing all the time, there. They had Arbor day celebrations, and farm product days; they formed country life library associations, library societies, and teachers' organizations. They had lecture courses and athletic meets and play festivals and farmers' picnics, and all manner of agricultural extension work.

The things that they did can be done again and if your community lacks something there might be a suggestion for you in the booklet, "Community Work of the Rural High School" which Professor Nolan wrote and the extension department of the college of agriculture has just published. It is sent free.

The house was decorated in the colors, green and white. In the parlor where the ceremony was said, a beautiful arch had been constructed, banked with ferns.

$10,000 IS GIVEN
PASSAVANT HOSPITAL

Campaign for Funds Has Started
Out Auspiciously — Committee Tells of First Gift.

(By Campaign Committee.)
That the spirit of noble philanthropy is not waning in the hearts of our citizenry is proven by a gift of ten thousand dollars made yesterday by S. W. Nichols to the fifty thousand dollar fund required to make Passavant hospital a truly Jacksonville institution and thoroughly equipped for its healing ministry.

Recently its present board of control having headquarters in Milwaukee, being satisfied that its greater efficiency depended upon local ownership and management, proposed to dedicate the building and its equipment and the valuable land on which it is located to local trustees provided this community would assemble and consecrate fifty thousand dollars for the betterment of the city.

Mr. Nichols, fully conscious of the needs the donors had in mind when making their proposal, as well as of the wonderful good to be achieved by these contemplated improvements and change of management did not wait to be solicited to give to this holy cause, but quickly announced his desire to give ten thousand dollars for these purposes. Mr. Nichols was one of Passavant's earliest co-laborers and for thirty years has been a helpful friend to the hospital and even now contemplates augmenting this princely gift.

The executive committee is now planning a fitting and enduring memorial to this philanthropist. Naturally the local trustees and committees are greatly encouraged in their quest of the remaining forty thousand dollars.

It is fondly hoped some family will donate twenty-five thousand dollars toward the construction of a fifty thousand dollar hospital building proper. Such building will bear the name of the family bearing half its cost.

Such a gift will endow that family name with a veneration, love and prestige more priceless far than "the wealth of Ormus or of Ind." With prayerful interest Jacksonville awaits the noble volunteer.

There will be a meeting tonight in the hospital chapel of all the ministers and physicians of the city together with all Passavant trustees, committees and aid societies.

Proper civic pride as well as sympathy for that pale host walking painfully down into the valley of the great shadow most of whom could be lifted up to the ozone, sun kissed hills of health by a greater and better Passavant should inspire every citizen to give liberally to this Christ-like ministry. All are urged to give in keeping with the family means and dignity.

Such arrangements have been made that one-fourth of each pledge may be paid Jan. 1st, 1913; one-fourth Jan. 1, 1913; another fourth Jan. 1, 1915 and the balance Jan. 1, 1916.
